II. Organizational Context and Purpose for the job

The fundamental mission of UNICEF is to promote the rights of every child, everywhere, in everything the organization does — in programmes, in advocacy and in operations. The equity strategy, emphasizing the most disadvantaged and excluded children and families, translates this commitment to children's rights into action. For UNICEF, equity means that all children have an opportunity to survive, develop and reach their full potential, without discrimination, bias or favoritism. To the degree that any child has an unequal chance in life — in its social, political, economic, civic and cultural dimensions — her or his rights are violated. There is growing evidence that investing in the health, nutrition, education and protection of a society's most disadvantaged citizens — addressing inequity — not only will give all children the opportunity to fulfill their potential but also will lead to sustained growth and stability of countries. This is why the focus on equity is so vital. It accelerates progress towards realizing the human rights of all children, which is the universal mandate of UNICEF, as outlined by the Convention on the Rights of the Child, while also supporting the equitable development of nations.

Nigeria has the second highest number of malnourished children in the world and the highest in Africa. Malnutrition, in all its forms, is a violation of children's right to adequate nutrition. To change the narrative, UNICEF, in partnership with the government and other stakeholders, aims to deliver good quality prevention and treatment services at scale to build resilience and protect the most vulnerable, particularly during the First 1000 Days of Life. The focus, in keeping with UNICEF Nigeria's new Country Programme Strategy (2023-2027), is to (i) strengthen the enabling environment, including data, to inform policy and programming; (ii) strengthen systems, especially the health, food and social protection system to deliver high-quality services; and (iii) address social and behavioural practices that influence diets and practices.

Job organizational context:

The Sokoto Field Office is classified as an emergency duty post and oversees the implementation of UNICEF's programmes across the humanitarian, development and peace nexus. Two of the focus states (Sokoto and Zamfara) are classified as humanitarian states as a result of banditry, ethnic conflict and natural disasters that have resulted in displacements of people and increased prevalence and severity of malnutrition among children.

In Sokoto state, 16.6% of children aged 0-59 months are wasted and 3.5% suffer from Severe Acute Malnutrition. In Zamfara state, 10.4% of children aged 0-59 months are wasted and 1.1% suffer from Severe Acute Malnutrition (2024 SMART survey). In Kebbi State, 9.6% of children 0-59 months are wasted (NDHS, 2023).

The Nutrition Specialist will also cover Kebbi state which has high levels of malnutrition and elevated levels of insecurity. The Nutrition Specialist reports to the Chief of Field Office (Sokoto) with technical support from the Chief of Nutrition (CO).

Purpose for the job:

The Nutrition Specialist supports the development and preparation of the nutrition programme and is responsible for managing, implementing, monitoring, evaluating, and reporting the programme progress of a sector of the nutrition programme within the country programme. The Nutrition Specialist provides technical guidance and management support throughout the programming processes to facilitate the administration and achievement of concrete and sustainable results in maternal, infant and child nutrition programmes/projects. This is carried out according to plans, allocation, results based-management approaches and methodology (RBM), as well as UNICEF's Strategic Plans, standards of performance, and accountability framework. Overall, the Nutrition Specialist will strategically engage in nutrition policy dialogue and advocacy with the State Government and key stakeholders to ensure effective policy adaptation on nutrition and food security, as well as would ensure that the Core Commitments for Children in Humanitarian Action – the CCCs—for nutrition are effectively implemented and promptly reported on.
