BACKGROUND (*)

UNICEF Belize's Programme Cooperation current cycle covers the period 2022-2026, and as such, entering its third year. The Belize Country Office (BCO) has opted to implement an internal Strategic Moment of Reflection (SMR) and external Mid-Term Review (MTR) to refine and sharpen the focus of the country programme and make adjustments as necessary, to accelerate the achievement of the results for children. Its primary purpose is to review the progress achieved to date towards the expected results of the country programme as outlined in the CPD and the Programme Strategy Notes; to take stock of changes in the programming context, and to review the performance of the country office in implementing programme strategies and principles underlying the country programme. The SMR and MTR will serve as a key opportunity to document evidence of "what works" in achieving and sustaining results, with emphasis on the most disadvantaged and excluded children, and to identify areas that can be strengthened or revised.

The BCO SMR and MTR will be used as an opportunity to address the following internal and external changes at global, regional, sub-regional and national levels:

- The need for acceleration of the SDG agenda and alignment with the newly emerged national commitments enshrined in the Medium-Term Strategic Plan 2022-2026 and the Statement of the Belize's Prime Minister at the SDG Summit 2023, highlighting the Special Education Policy, investment in Early Childhood Development, a costed Social Protection Strategy, including the Social Protection Floor and accompanying institutional mechanisms, School Feeding Programme, National Digital Agenda, and National Strategy for Advancing Statistical Development.
- Ensuring alignment with the new UNICEF Strategic Priorities 2022-2025, Global and Regional Advocacy Priorities, such as EVAC, Mental Health and Climate and Water.
- Building on the solid evidence generated and strategies and roadmaps developed in the past 2 years, maximising UNICEF's added value in Belize and focusing on integrated approaches in delivering the results for children and communities.

- Taking into consideration the new programmes for which BCO has mobilized resources and gained expectations from the Government, such WASH in the Communities, Climate Change and DRM, and strengthened shock responsiveness of social systems.
- BCO implemented several pilots and/or innovative initiatives (Cash transfer programmes using digital payments for migrant children and nutritional outcomes for children; upgrade of school WASH facilities based on the WASH assessments, an innovative partnership with Women’s Parliamentary Caucus, GIGA, Think Equal and GPE, innovative approaches in health such as Quality Improvement App, Vaccine Monitoring App, Remote Temperature Monitoring System for Cold-Chain Equipment, georeferenced mapping of Community Health Workers) which have progressively demonstrated their strategic potential and may need to be highlighted in a revised framework and potentially brought to scale.
- Repositioning emergency programming to make it more systemic and resilient, factor increasing migration concerns and enhance UNICEF’s support in the post-amnesty era.
- Building on the new partnership with the Ministry of Sustainable Development, Climate Change and Disaster Risk Management (MSDCCDRM) enhanced efforts of UNICEF that are needed to build resilience and mitigate the impact of climate change on children.
- Internal adjustments: Since the implementation of the current country programme, UNICEF Belize has grown considerably both in terms of human resources and funds raised for programme implementation, the potential required changes in programme and operations structure.

The review process will be led in a participatory manner, including national/subnational government, civil society, private sector, IFIs, UN and other partners to agree on any adjustments that may be required to the country programme for the remaining period of the programme cycle. The SMR and MTR are therefore an opportunity to assess the results achieved in the first half of the Country Programme, lessons learned, and propose programme adjustments, relating in particular to the outputs, strategies, resource allocation and office structure. The conclusions of the MTR, including the lessons learned, will be incorporated into the planning of the remaining period of the Country Programme and inform the planning of the next cycle.
